What kind of building will $90 MILLION buy?

Representative Shannon Savick used our tax dollars to build a $90 million palace for politicians.

Families in Minnesota are trying to get by on a budget, but Shannon Savick and Mark Dayton approved a $90 million taxpayer-funded office building for part-time politicians.¹

This palatial project was approved at the same time jobs are leaving Minnesota and taxes continue to skyrocket.

Wasting millions on pet projects for politicians

Shannon Savick voted to spend $90 million on a luxury office building for politicians, but that is just the beginning.

Shannon Savick also voted to spend:

- Over $21 million on a pedestrian mall in downtown Minneapolis²
- Millions of dollars to renovate the ski chalet at a luxury golf and ski resort³
- Thousands of dollars on pay raises for politicians⁴

Soaring taxes, out-of-control spending

To pay for her wasteful spending, Shannon Savick voted with Mark Dayton and the DFL legislature to increase taxes by over $2 billion. Shannon Savick also supported taking on more than $840 million in taxpayer-funded debt.

Later studies showed that much more of the new debt and tax increases went to pay for new government buildings than roads and bridges.

Shannon Savick voted to increase taxes by more than $2 billion. We can't afford Shannon Savick's out-of-control spending

Shannon Savick will keep raising taxes and wasting our money. Minnesota families can't afford more of the same.
